DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
- 2. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Saitoh et al (5898403).

Regarding Claims 1-19, Saitoh et al show an antenna comprising a plurality of bases 2-5 and 12-15 with conductor patterns 5a,12a,12b,13a,13b,14a,14b, 15a,15b, etc., conducting section(s) 22,23,24 configured to electrically interconnect the conductor patterns, where the patterns form at least one inductance 15a,15b and capacitance 14a,14b connected in parallel on adjoining bases, a shielding conductor pattern 5a,13a,13b, power feeding port 5b,16 and shielding pattern 5a,13a,13b are used to connect to another electronic circuit, trimming patterns 12a,12b configured to trim impedance of the antenna, and through-holes (col. 4, lines 35-38) connecting the bases there through, a cover 3,4 covering the bases 11 while portions 21-24 are exposed to the outside, shield layer 5a is formed on the outermost base 12, all arranged as claimed.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 4/4/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Specifically, the claims have a preamble that recites an antenna with all subsequent structure pertaining thereto. Saitoh et al shows a radiating patch with associated antenna circuitry in multiple layers that form inductances and capacitances. The claims at hand do not distinguish what structures define the radiator(s). Applicant's arguments point out that the invention comprises two elements (or radiators). The claims do not reflect such a positive recitation of structure. It is suggested to clearly recite the antenna radiation structures and interrelate them to the plurality of bases.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
